INTERNATIONAL OUTDOOR SHOW

We hear these days much about the World's Fair, about the International Livestock Exposition, in fact about international conventions featuring everything from white mice to atomic reactors. In the realm of horse shows, however, there is only one way of achieving official international status. This is conferred by the Federation Equestre Internationale which designates the principal horse shows of the world offering classes under F.E.I. Rules as Concours Hippique Internationale Officiel (C.H.I.O.).

At the present time we have three such shows in North America, the Pennsylvania National at Harrisburg, the National Horse Show at New York, and the Royal Agricultural Winter Fair at Toronto, Canada, which together make a circuit in which many of the leading European jumping teams compete. Unfortunately all of these shows are held in indoor arenas which are more or less cramped, the most restricted being Madison Square Garden in New York.

These limited areas require the construction of courses which from an international point of view can hardly be considered typical. The obstacles must be easily movable and therefore somewhat flimsy in appearance as compared to the permanent fences of such show grounds as Aachen and Dublin. By the same token they cannot be so many in number or so varied. Instead of being able to gallop on to a fence, horses have to adjust themselves to the tighter turns imposed by space limitations.

It is for these reasons, even more than because of transportation and other costs, that a number of the leading European teams have never seen fit to come to this country. Except for the Mexicans, whose training program has for many years been based on the small arena, most other countries have to give their horses and riders special schooling in order to put forth a winning effort. This in turn means reschooling after they get home. No wonder that they regard our indoor circuit with somewhat limited enthusiasm.

We do not, of course, suggest that our circuit should be abandoned—not only are these three shows the best we have, but they also offer advantages from the point of view of the public which could not be duplicated elsewhere in their sections, particularly in late October and November. But we do suggest that the circuit might be made even more attractive if it could be preceded by a truly international outdoor show at a point somewhat further south which should provide good weather for competitors and spectators alike.

This year there has been organized under the direction of Eric Atterbury, one of the most experienced and capable show executives in the country, the Washington International Horse Show which is being held for 6 days immediately preceding Harrisburg. Because it is the best site presently available, the show will be held this year in the National Guard Armory. The Armory Board, however, hopes to construct an outdoor stadium with a seating capacity of 50,000 and an arena of about the same size as that used at the Dublin Horse Show. Obviously no location for an international horse show could be more suitable than the national capital, particularly with its special advantages of climate and accessibility. We wish the Committee and its director all success in this initial venture and in its development to the point where the F.E.I. will see fit to add to its title the initials C.H.I.O.

Letters

International Horse Show

Dear Sir:

As you know, the Washington, D. C. area has at last succeeded in scheduling an International Horse Show (October 6-11, 1958) which the Committee hopes will be an annual affair second to none of all the great Shows in America. Since it will be a six day affair, with day and evening performances catering to all types of horses, we need a total of ninety trophies of varying categories - memorial, challenge, perpetual, regular, etc. Trophies should be suitable for the type of class for which each is given and should range in cost from $50.00 for the smaller classes to $1,000.00 or more for the important stake and International Jumping Team classes.

Undoubtedly, there are subscribers of The Chronicle who would like to contribute a trophy for the class in which each has some particular interest.

Time is short, so your immediate help will be very much appreciated.

Sincerely,

James O. Pease

Claiborne Farm's Nadir Wins American Derby at Arlington Park

Raleigh Burroughs

Washington-at-Arlington

The first American Derby was staged in 1884 and was won by the filly Modesty. The winner's share was $10,700. The money prize that went to the Kentucky Derby that year was $3,990. So it can be seen that Washington Park's three-year-old race was big from the beginning. Incidentally, the great colored jockey, Isaac Murphy, was aboard both Buchanan, victor in Kentucky, in 1884, and Modesty in her Illinois triumph.

Few important races have varied in length and locale more than the American Derby.

The inaugural was held at old Washington Park and was at a distance of 1 1/2 miles, just like the Epsom Derby. It was run for the last time at old Washington Park in 1904. Two years later the plant was torn down.

In 1916, the Derby was put on at Hawthorne and the distance was a mile and one quarter.

When the new Washington Park was opened in 1926, the American Derby was revived. That year and the next, the distance was 12 furlongs, in '28 it was at a mile and a quarter, but Arlington Park was the scene of the event.

The distance was reduced to a mile and one-eighth in 1952 and stayed that way through 1954; then it was moved up to 1 3/16 miles. In '56 and '57, it was on the grass.

This year (August 19), the race was run at Arlington Park, at 1 1/8 miles on dirt. It was the richest three-year-old race in Chicago history, with a gross of $160,075.

Claiborne Farm's Nadir took down the major share, $114,600, scoring a 3 1/4-length victory over Victory Morn. Talent Show was third and Gray Trust, fourth.

Nadir (*Nasrullah-Gallita, by *Challenger II) covered the nine furlongs in 1:51 3/5, good enough considering the heavy going. The mutuels payoff was $6 for $2.

It was Nadir's fifth win in 13 1958 starts and brought his lifetime earnings to $337,684.

Earlier, he won the Select Stakes at Monmouth. He took the rich Garden State last season.

Bred by Claiborne (A. B. Hancock, Jr.) Nadir is trained by Moody Jolley. Manuel Ycaza was in the saddle for the Derby.

The upset of the year occurred on August 13, at Arlington, when Battle Heart scored over the previously-undefeated Dark Vintage in Washington's Princess Pat Stakes.

Battle Heart, owned and bred by E. P. Metz, was winning her third race in 7 tries. She led almost from the break and kept a one length lead over the 4-to-5 choice throughout the race, winning by that margin.

Nasturtium took third money, and Little Kid, the smallest slice of the loot.

Ken Church rode Battle Heart and said he was a bit concerned at the sixteenth pole, but his filly held on and was "quite strong at the end". The six-furlong dash was accomplished in 1:10 4/5.

With the $71,000 from the Princess Pat, the two-year-old filly has total earnings of $76,977.

Those who thought she was worth a bet got rich. Anybody who bet $200 got back $9,480, if anybody bet $200.

Battle Heart is by Battlefield, from the Amphitheatre mare, Kisses Heart. C. C. Norman trains her.

Saratoga

A very unpleasant thing happened at Saratoga during the week of the Sales - I didn't get there.

And the track was fast, many nice yearlings were sold, scores of interesting people were on hand and Admiral Vee won the Saratoga Handicap.

Admiral Vee named after a motel in Miami (or the motel is named after him, I'm not sure which) had been threatening to come through, and the Saratoga Handicap.

cap, August 19, looked like a great spot for a Spa sojourner to make expenses.

The six-year-old horse did the trick, but expense-making sojourners had to sit out a grueling stretch drive and a picture finish.

Little Hermit cut out the early pace, with El Bermejo and Admiral Vee hustling along with him. The three horses finished out the first eight furlongs of the mile-and-a-quarter run in almost a dead-heat. Eddie Schmidt was in fourth place at that point and Inside Tract was hornning into things.

Admiral Vee had his nose in front at the eighth pole, and there was another head-and-head situation with the other heads belonging to El Bermejo and Inside Tract. Little Hermit's head was back in fifth place, along with the rest of him.

The duel to the wire was between Admiral Vee and Inside Tract, and the Admiral made it by a whisker. El Bermejo was third, 2 1/2 lengths back and 1 1/4 before Eddie Schmidt.

Admiral Vee carried 122 pounds to share top impost with Eddie Schmidt.

The winner's share, $36,255, put the son of War Admiral-Yankee Flirt, by *Blenheim II, at $85,998 for 1958. He has 2 wins and 4 seconds in 12 starts.

Bred by the estate of Samuel D. Riddle, Admiral Vee is owned by Edward A. Seinfeld, H. A. Jerkens trains the horse and Ted Atkinson was aboard for the Saratoga Handicap.

The payoff in the wagering department was $9.90 per two-buck certificate.

E. L. Cotton's First Minister, with a Flash Stakes win behind him, added the Grand Union Hotel Stakes, on August 13.

Intentionally, favored in the six-furlong spin for juveniles, was second, 3 1/4 lengths back of the winner and 2 1/2 before East Indian. Hilwan was fourth.

The first two to finish each carried 120 pounds. The other five were assigned 114, but Eire County lugged 115 because that was as low as Pete Anderson could get. He couldn't get any lower than where he finished, either.

First Minister, by Primate-DouDouia, by Wise Counsellor, brought his owner $21,870. That puts his total at $42,323. He has 3 wins and a second in 6 starts.

Yearling Sales Stakes

The first running of the Yearling Sales Stakes, for maiden Thoroughbreds sold at public auction as yearlings in the United States, was staged on August 12.

A rather expensive bundle of horseflesh made up the field of eleven. The horses that ran were worth $205,900, by last year's sales standards. The figure would have been $14,100 more had not Crafty Tiger been scratched.

The cheapest colt in the lot was South American, for which Mrs. Philip Godfrey paid $2,100. He finished tenth, but there must have been some satisfaction for his owner, as South American beat the $30,000 colt, Die Hard.

John Doe, the winner of the Yearling Sales Stakes, cost $7,000, and was next to the cheapest.

His win was worth $7,658.75, so his owner, Mr. Eugene Constantin, Jr., was one of the few who could have gotten out of the red in this race. Added to the $800 John Doe collected for finishing second in his only previous start, this makes his earnings $8,458.75. With $12 a day (or thereabouts) to the trainer, vet fees, vitamins, etc., Mr. Constantin would have had to scrimp a bit to square the ledger. Oh well, maybe he had a bet going. The payoff in that department was $7.30.

The second horse to finish was Top Double, tied with Alibastro for honor of top price. He cost $32,000. Third was Nimmer ($17,000) and fourth was Stockwell ($15,500).

Alibastro finished eighth.

John Doe was the favorite and was ridden by Eddie Arcaro. S. T. Greene, Jr., trains him.

The colt is by To Market-Butterfly, by Bimelech.

A. B. Gay is the gent who got the $7,000. He bred John Doe.

The Test Stakes, August 15, drew 17 three-year-old fillies and the money was bet all over the place, so you could get a pretty good price on any filly you fancied.

Mooring Stable's Tempted was made the choice at 4 to 1, on the strength of her fine performance in the Delaware Handicap against older females.

North Hill Farm's Any Morn was the successful one. Breaking from Post Position 9, she rushed into the lead and stayed there for the remainder of the seven furlongs.

She stretched out her margin to three lengths at the stretch call and lasted to beat Dandy Blitzen by 1 3/4 lengths. The price at the $2 window was $12.80.

Armorial was third, and Lopar, fourth. Tempted raced in eighth place most of the way and finished seventh.

Spar Maid, another considered to have a chance to win, was far back throughout the trip, ending up 14th.

Any Morn (Battle Morn-Anyway, by Mowlee) earned $16,260. She had won 4 previous races in 1958 and 2 last year, but none in stakes.

Her season's total is $33,721. She has started 11 times.

J. Byer trains Any Morn. John Ruane was up for the Test.

North Hill Farm (Mr. and Mrs. Milton Ritzenberg) bred the filly.

Steeplechasing At Saratoga

John E. Cooper

The second full week of 'chasing at Saratoga may well prove to have been the high point of the season here with six interesting races gone into the record books. Three of the races, resulted in nose or neck finishes. *Hurst Park won the North American 'Chase in record time; Fairfax ran an improved race to rank with the better hurdlers of the year in winning the final leg of the Maiden Hurdle series; Chambourg returned to the races looking very fit, and Vespucci won over hurdles, the first jumper campaigned by F. Ambrose Clark in several years.

Five well matched jumpers answered the bugle call for the North American Steeplechase on Thursday, August 14th, and it is doubtful if the meeting at the upstate course here will produce a more interesting and exciting jumping race. In a driving finish, *Hurst Park (142 lbs.) held off the favored Rythminhim (115 lbs) by a short head. Neglected by the crowd, the Guilford Dudley, Jr., owned fencer paid a generous $25.20 and was the second upset winner saddled by J. V. H. Davis in less than a week. A sizzling pace marked the entire race over the about two miles and thirteen fences, so it was no surprise when the time of 4:07 and 4/5 was hung up. It constituted a new course record, but even in these days of varying times because of the use of moveable railings on the turns, one has to go back about a dozen years ago to the extremely rapid fencer, Pontius Pilate to reach a comparable mark.

George Cassidy got the field off quickly and Paddy Smithwick had Mrs. June McKnight's *Darubini (139 lbs) away winging for the first jump. Sanford Stud Farms' Tremere (143 lbs), *Hurst Park, Mrs. Arthur White's Blen More (150 lbs) and Rythminhim followed in that order. The pace was too fast for good jumping, and several minor mistakes by most of the runners was true during the first lap of the course. However, the first serious error occurred at the water jump the second time. Blen More with Murt Hoey in the saddle, bobbled slightly, then dropped his head on landing. He was in second position at the time, several lengths off *Darubini, and Hoey hustled him right along, for the remainder of the field were close behind him, and Hoey probably wanted to maintain his position around the club house turn. However, Blen More, which had been running well up to this point, only seemed to respond with great effort. Meanwhile, Willard Thompson on the eventual winner, moved his mount going down the far side the last time. *Hurst Park moved willingly, jumped well, and when *Darubini made a mistake midway down the far side, *Hurst Park went to the front.

An Open Race

The race was still an open one at this point, and the other four were very much in contention. Rythminhim, usually a slow beginner, had trailed his field for more than a turn of the course, but Tommy Walsh moved with him down the far side, and while he was still fifth and last at this point, a scarce half a dozen lengths separated him from *Hurst Park. A tight group of five ran around the final turn, and as they straightened out for the final jump, *Hurst Park, Tremere and Blen More were practically on even terms, with Rythminhim and *Darubini a few lengths away. *Hurst Park received the call at the final fence, but Cotter on Tremere on the inside of him, was right there. Unfortunately for the Sanford fencer, a mistake here at the crucial point, unseated Cotter. Unnoticed by many in the crowd because of the close finish, was Cotter's game effort to stay on, but like a slow motion film, he gradually went further over the side, then hung on by a hair and finally dropped off a hundred yards from the jump. Meanwhile, a tense racing drama was rapidly coming to its climax. *Hurst Park and Thompson were doing their best, but the game little Walsh jumper was getting to him with each stride. The daylight gap became a length, then half a length, a head, and finally Rythminhim got his nose in front, but the finish came a stride earlier. A hushed expectancy hung over the crowd until the placing judges looked at the photo finish, and then put up the result. Only those close to the finish line could guess intelligently. It was a "big" race for *Hurst Park, the best of his career for the eight-year-old Irish-bred gelding. The fifty-third edition of the North American netted his owner slightly under $5,900. *Hurst Park won because he, together with Rythminhim jumped best. Had *Darubini, and Blen More, third and fourth in that order, together with Tremere, done equally as well, it might have resulted in a different ending.

National Maiden Hurdle

On the following day, Friday, the third leg of the National Maiden Hurdle came up for decision. Six of the original nominees back in April, were joined with four supplemental nominations to make a well balanced field of ten. Prior to the race, a half a dozen of the field appeared to have a chance, but the winner was clearly the best in the running. Bothered at the start when *Brendan swerved to the outside, Jimmy Walker took Mrs. G. H. Bostwick's Fairfax along slowly for half a mile, then worked his way into contention going down the far side the first time. Running on even terms with Mancus the second time around, Fairfax easily took command when *Isle of Shine, the pacemaker for more than a turn of the field, made a mistake and dropped back. Widening his advantage around the final turn and up to the last two hurdles in the stretch, Fairfax won by a widening five and a half lengths. The runner-up, Mary Rumsey's *Romeo, was a mild surprise, coming from behind to overtake Mancus and Real Fancy in the closing stages. Mancus was third, two lengths behind *Romeo and another three in front of Real Fancy, which raced disappointingly and was never a serious contender in the last half mile.

Fairfax is a four-year-old gelded son of either Prince Simon or Mr. Trouble. His dam was Flag of Truce, and he was bred by his owner. By virtue of the supplementary nominations and the originals Mrs. Bostwick netted $8,175, the second richest hurdle race of the season thus far.

Mielaison, A Winner

Earlier in the week, F. Eugene Dixon's Mielaison gained a narrow victory over Charles Van Horn's Ring o'Roses. The winner was ridden by James Hobales. He led for most of the way, except on the last turn, where Affable took command, and briefly loomed up as the winner. Regaining the lead coming to the second last hurdle, he continued on in front, although he might have been lucky to win, for Paddy Smithwick on Ring o'Roses got to within a head of him at the wire. It appeared as if he might have been the best horse in the race, but Smithwick made a belated challenge which just missed.

The result of Tuesday's maiden hurdle

Steeplechasing at Saratoga

Week of Aug. 4-9

John E. Cooper

When John Cotter rode under the wire in first place in the Promise Stakes on Thursday, August 7th, he knew he was in for some trouble, and so did most of the crowd. He was on Sanford Stud Farm's Dartmoor, the best three-year-old hurdler of the season up to this point, and while he scored easily by five lengths, he had gone wide at the fifth hurdle and appeared to carry Kenneth Field on Mrs. Henry Obre's Count Down with him. Dartmoor lost the lead at this point briefly, but again went into command bending into the far side, and continued to hold the lead to the finish line. Around the last turn and into the front side in the stretch Tommy Walsh on Mrs. H. J. Stringer's Adios Buzz made a game challenge, and at one point was lapped on the leader, but from the last hurdle to the wire it was strictly the Sanford color-bearer as he lengthened on his field. Adios Buzz was second, two and a half lengths in front of Versus, with Count Down a well beaten fourth fifteen lengths further back. Ondine, a filly racing for Marben Farm, was fifth and the last horse to complete the race after Amateur, a stablemate of Dartmoor, came down at final fence.

Foul Claimed

Returning to the scales, there was little question that Field would claim against Cotter, but to the surprise of many, Walsh also claimed foul, stating that Dartmoor had crossed in front of him coming into the stretch. After interviewing the three riders, the Stewards viewed the films of the race. A lengthy delay followed and finally the decision was announced that neither claim was allowed and Dartmoor declared the winner. It was a controversial decision, and a courageous one. There seemed to be little basis for the claim by Tommy Walsh, but the incident going to the fifth hurdle and the clubhouse turn was another matter. It looked worse to the naked eye than the films showed. There was no question that Field's mount went wide on the outside of Dartmoor, but it appeared that he was heading out further than was necessary. In addition Field lost his seat at the jump, and Count Down was slower in getting into stride again because of this. In any event, whichever way the matter was decided it was the sort of thing which left public opinion divided.

Although only six horses went postward, there was some crowding and bump-ing at several points in the race, but Dartmoor definitely was the best horse. The Promise was his third victory of the year, and it was worth $5,070 to the entire son of Marchons 2nd from Visage by Bleud'Or.

*Aheria A Winner

Earlier in the week, Michael G. Walsh turned loose a good looking long-legged filly which he purchased abroad a short time ago. Ridden by Tommy Walsh, *Aheria was steadied along behind her field, then responded willingly to take command around the final turn. She appeared a bit green at her fences, but showed an excellent performance for a first time starter over hurdles. Her winning margin was eight lengths. She ran for $4,500 but it is doubtful that anyone will have such an opportunity again, in fact later in the week, she ran in good handicap company and finished a very creditable third. Taking minor money awards in the claiming hurdle race at the mile and five furlong distance were Highland Light, Glendower and Mandil in the order mentioned. The last mentioned made all the pace, and at one time was as much as a dozen lengths in front, but coming into the stretch Mandil stopped in a hurry.

Double For Smithwick

Paddy Smithwick chalked up a double riding win during the week when he guided home Curly Joe for Randolph Rouse on Tuesday. Run under claiming conditions at a mile and three quarters over hurdles, it proved to be an exciting race with the result in doubt until the final stride. Favored in the betting, Curly Joe came from third place to take command when Lucky Trine faltered around the bottom turn, but Smithwick had to use all his riding talents to stave off a game bid from Cool Warrior the second choice under Tommy Walsh. From the final jump to the wire it was a head and head contest with Curly Joe getting the decision by a neck. Well back behind the leaders, Lucky Trine lasted for third with U. C. Future fourth. Smithwick's second victory came the following day, when he rode Mrs. T. A. Randolph's Walrus to a convincing three length victory in a hurdle designed for non-winners of $1,000. Walrus was bred by his owner, and had a couple of fair races on the flat behind him as a recommendation. However, this event was his debut over jumps, and it was a very creditable effort. The runner-up, Hindrance, was ridden by Tommy Walsh as had been the case the day previously. He offered the most competition in the late stages and was much the best of the remainder of the field. *Baroda Boy and *Voleur were third and fourth as named. Completing the race were *Sea Lord 2nd, the even money favorite, and *Peach Blossom 2nd. The latter went to the front early, showed plenty of speed between fences, but checked at his jumps. Danny Marzani on *Sea Lord 2nd, closest to him at the time, had difficulty in avoid-

Saratoga Yearling Sales

The Fasig-Tipton Company's 38th Annual Saratoga Yearling Sales opened up on Monday August 11, and it took several days before the buyers became sufficiently warmed-up to bid in a manner befitting the breeding and cataloguing of the hopefuls.

A dark bay colt by Tom Fool-Admiral's Lark, by War Admiral brought $20,000 the first night. He was bought by Frank Frankel, agent, out of the Warner Ranch Company's consignment. The sales on the first night averaged $5,205. per 46 head and the results were good but a bit spotty.

On Tuesday night the average for 46 head was slightly better, $5,687. Top price of the evening was the $25,000 realized by Mrs. Charles B. Lyman, agent for Robert McLean, for a chestnut colt by Battlefield-Bunoora, by *Mahmoud.

The $40,000 paid for a brown colt (Hasty Road-Roman Matron, by Pompey) by F. Ambrose Clark was the high mark of the Wednesday night sale. The youngster was consigned by Kentmere Farm, agent. The 51 head which went through the ring on Wednesday averaged $10,802.

Forty-one yearlings averaged $9,237. on Thursday night when Duntreath Farm paid $41,000 for a dark brown or black colt by Native Dancer-Dark Display, by Display, to top the session.

The last night offerings showed an average of $11,615 for 56 head. W. G. Helis, Jr. paid $36,500 for a bay colt by Helioscope-Belle Soeur, by *Beau Pere. Mr. and Mrs. Melville Church II consigned this yearling. A total of 240 head sold this year for $2,081,000 for an average of $8,671. In 1957 the same number of yearlings averaged $11,400. The 1958 average of $8,671 reflected a solid market and a solid future for racing and breeding.

SARATOGA PLANS

Some fifty publishers and writers of the district, accompanied by officials of the New York Racing Association, gathered Aug. 5th at the National Museum of Racing, concerned with the future of Saratoga, the oldest Thoroughbred track in the United States. Arthur Froelich, with his assistant Robert Krause, took over when the group had gathered in the Museum and, using drawings and designs, described a plan inaugurated by the NYRA for the modernization and renovation of the Saratoga racing center. Mr. Froelich is the architect for the new Aqueduct racing plant, now in the process of competition for the NYRA on Long Island.

Staging this affair was the special Saratoga Committee of the NYRA, under the chairmanship of Howell Jackson, with F. S. von Stade, many years president of the old Saratoga Association, and Walter M. Jeffords, president of the Museum as members. John W. Hanes, president of NYRA, with other of its Trustees and officials, joined the affair. After the architect's briefing, a cavalcade of cars took a tour of the grounds and stable areas, pausing to point out spots where the new designs would take effect and also inspecting the several new stables, bunkhouses and backstretch improvements already completed.

What the architects showed were the plans ordered by the New York Racing Association which present a three stage development program. This offers the chance, when finances permit it, to complete the work in stages, thus permitting an unbroken continuance of racing at this famous upstate racing shrine. When this work is finally completed, Saratoga will have an ultra modern grandstand, but one designed carefully to carry out the historic motif of its present appearance. There will be several thousand additional seats, deepened, covered stands, four escalators in the grandstand, two in the club house and modernized facilities throughout.

The designs shown were preliminary architects' drawings ordered by the New York Racing Association.

Stage 1 of the expansion program consists primarily of an addition to the grandstand, linking the present structure with the field stand to its left, which means clearing away the present betting shed and storage facilities in that area. In this phase of operations, improvements will also be made to the present grandstand, including a new entrance and installation of two escalators.

Stage 2 calls for demolishing the rear and present roof of the field stand and reconstructing that structure to conform with the new addition to the grandstand. The two sections will provide 3,700 additional seats.

Stage 3 will see the removal of the rotunda and the addition of a two-story structure in this area, serviced by two escalators. New entrances will be built, as well as a bar and lounge overlooking the paddock.

The fourth stage will comprise additions and changes to the clubhouse, which will also have two escalators. The entire structure will include lounges and rest areas, a new dining room overlooking the paddock and functional betting areas.

SIXTEEN AND UP

The New York Racing Association has announced that the minimum age limit for admission to all New York tracks will henceforth be 16 years of age.

LIKES SALT WATER

*Cloonroughan, Mrs. M. G. Walsh's gelding who was leading hurdler in amount of money won at the recent Monmouth meeting, likes salt water. In preparation for his engagement in the Midsummer Hurdle Handicap he was galloped on the sand at Colt's Neck and allowed to swim almost every day.

ONTARIO ADMITS YOUNGSTERS

The Ontario Jockey Club has announced that it will admit children to the races at Woodbine, Fort Erie and Old Woodbine.

SOUTH AMERICAN IMPORTS

Columnist Tom O'Reilly quotes Jorge Manzano-Small, the Argentinian who has been most successful in importing horses from his home country and training them to victory in this country, concerning the approved importation technique. "I brought my horses here at the end of April. Remember the horse finds the water is different. The oats are different. The climate is different. Then there is the change of seasons. Spring time is best to bring them here from Argentina. Summer is just ending down there. You must watch the coat hair. As it gets warmer through May and June the horse will shed his coat properly. If you use your eyes anybody with five inches worth of sense can train a horse, but it requires work.

"I'm out here at 5:30 every morning. Hour after hour, I check the stalls to see that they are clean. At all times the horse must be comfortable and know that he is loved in these new surroundings. In Argentina we never put a saddle on a horse unless we plan to work him real hard or race him. So, at first, we only ride him bareback around here. The change must be gradual. As we work into the United States training system, we put a saddle on him every two days or so. Finally he doesn't get too worried about it. You've got to stay with an imported horse all day long and treat it just like a baby."

S.W. ARCARO

Eddie Arcaro, the first active rider elected to the National Jockeys Hall of Fame, holds one record which will last a long time. He has won 400 stakes races, over 75 more than his closest rival.

46 YEAR JOCKEY RECORD

Walter Miller was elected to the National Jockeys Hall of Fame in 1957 for becoming the first to ride more than 300 winners in a single season. His 388 winners in 1906 stood as a world record for 46 years until broken by Tony De-Spirito in 1952.

FLORIDA

FLORIDA HORSE CENTER

The five David brothers, of Hollywood, Florida, have recently purchased 2300 acres on U. S. Route #441 between Palm Beach and the Delray Beach entrance to the Sunshine Parkway. Six hundred acres have been appropriated for a new horse center which will include a regulation training track with a 3/8 of a mile straight away and electric starting gate, training barns and an arena for Thoroughbred sales. Surrounding the track, 50 stud farms will be laid out for sale to breeders. A Veterinary Clinic is to be established on the property.

HILDENE'S LAST

The last foal of C. T. Chenery's great mare Hildene, who bred five stakes winners for her owner at his farm, The Meadow, near Doswell, Va., including Hill Prince, Prince Hill, Third Brother, Mangohick and First Landing, is a yearling colt by Tom Fool named Good Speed, which is currently being broken, along with 22 other yearlings, at the Virginia farm.

Chestnut colt by Billings-Away East, by Airway, was foaled on April 28, at Leslie Combs II's Spendthrift Farm. The foal is the property of C. G. Raible's Pebblebrook Farm.

JABNEH

The six-year-old stallion Jabneh (Bimlech-Bellesoeur, by *Beau Pere), owned jointly by Mrs. Eugenia Bankhead and Mrs. Louisa Carpenter, will be retired from the race track at the end of this year and will stand at stud in 1959 at Springfield Farm, Rock Hall, Maryland. Jabneh, whose specialty is running on the grass, won the Hialeah Turf Handicap in 1957 and holds the one-mile track record on the turf at Delaware Park of 1:36 3/5.

ALEXANDER AND GLASBY

Riley Alexander, one of the Southwest's best known sportsmen with interests ranging all the way from game chickens to Thoroughbred horses, who raced a small unit at Arlington Downs years ago, is interested in the development of a Thoroughbred stock farm on his property near Ennis, Texas. Heretofore this area has been chiefly devoted to cotton. Associated with Alexander is Ervin Glasby who is considered one of the wealthiest citizens hereabouts. Alexander and Glasby bought the remaining stock at Cresson Farm, prior to which they bought breeding stock from R. S. Handley and Fred Wyse. There are 30 odd mares, a nice group of yearlings and some good weanlings. The stallions on hand include the former Cresson Farm's Valdina Lamar,

Shillelah Steeplechase

About forty five minutes prior to the Shillelah Steeplechase on Friday, the skies opened up with the type of deluge the Saratoga countryside is known for. The result was that the infield was well soaked on top and the going a bit treacherous. Caste and Rythminhim were the pre-race favorites, but the change in footing helped the latter considerably, and at the end he was on top by eight lengths despite several ragged jumps. At the fourth fence, Tommy Walsh, his rider, was thrown up on his neck, and was lucky to regain his seat. For about a turn of the field *Darubini was in front, setting a hot pace, and threatening to unseat Joe Aitcheson at each fence. Gridiron was next, followed by the remainder of the seven horse field in close order. When the first two tired and started to come back, Caste, with Paddy Smithwick, briefly went to the front, with Benguala and the eventual winner close by. Around the last turn, Rythminhim took command and was never in danger afterwards, although Benguala, a four-year-old, winner of a chase here on opening day, raced on well and was a very creditable second, a length and a half in front of Sanford Stud Farm's Tremere. Caste gave way in the final stages and faded back to be a well beaten fourth. Time for the about two miles was 4:18, about six seconds off the mark this year, and a reflection of the course condition.

The Fair Crystal Hurdle Handicap on Saturday provided the setting for a clever win for Allison Stern's Greek Brother. Ridden by Ronnie Sheather, the J. V. H. Davis trained jumper turned in his best performance of the year and won by four and a half lengths under 153 lbs. The runner-up, My Last Try, a four-year-old was weighted at 148 lbs., and on the scale was giving the winner four pounds. Owned by F. Eugene Dixon and trained by Joe Nash, My Last Try came to this race fresh from a second behind *Cloonroughan in the Midsummer at Monmouth Park. He ran a good race and while he was in tight quarters at one time during the running, he was second best at the weights. Mrs. M. G. Walsh's *Aheria came back from her win on Monday, and ran a powerful race in this company. She carried 141 lbs., fenced poorly several times, but was still good enough to be third followed by Great Tom and *Ballybrittas. The latter, for rather obscure reasons was favored in the betting. For more than a turn of the field, he ran well, but lacked a drive in the closing stages. Greek Brother was clocked in 3:48 4/5, a full five seconds and one fifth better than the best time made in 1957.

INTENT

The young stallion Intent (War Relic-Liz F., by Bubbling Over), who from his second crop of nine registered foals produced the stakes winners Intentionally and Demobilize, has been syndicated by his owners Mrs. Edward S. Moore and Harry Z Isaacs. Those purchasing shares in the horse are Dr. Eslie Asbury, John A. Bell 3d, Mrs. Dodge Sloane, Ira Drymon, William duPont Jr., Mrs. Milton Erlanger, Mrs. Travis M. KEENELAND SALES HIGHLIGHTS

Highlight of the four-day, eight-session vendue was the sale of a half-brother to champion sprinter Decathlon, by leading sire, *Princequillo. Consigned by Hurstland Farm, the colt was purchased by Travis M. Kerr, owner of Round Table, for $77,000 - the fifth highest price on record for a yearling sold at public auction in this country.

Thirty-eight yearlings - 28 colts and 10 fillies - brought $20,000 or more, as buyers from throughout the country vied for the choice racing prospects.

Highest price for a filly - $42,000 - was paid by Howard P. Wilson for a daughter of Eight Thirty - Canina, a sister to Royal Coinage and a half-sister to War Command, from the Mereworth Farm consignment.

For the tenth successive year, Leslie Combs II, owner of Spendthrift Farm, led all consignors with three or more yearlings in the sale in terms of averages. Combs, who heads the syndicate owning Nashua, sold seven yearlings for a $30,357 average.

Hurstland Farm was next in averages, selling 12 youngsters for $17,933 each, with Stoner Creek Stud close behind with an average of $17,664 for 17 yearlings.

*Princequillo, last year's leading sire, led all other stallions with three or more representatives in the sale, in terms of averages, as five of his sons and daughters averaged $39,340.

*Nasrullah, who had led in that department at the Keeneland sales since 1954, was a close second as four of his offspring averaged $35,700.

With half of the season completed, General Manager Ivan Thomas reported that Centennial Race Track, Denver, Col., had recorded major increases in both attendance and handle.

"We are most happy with the way our 1958 meeting is going," said Thomas. "Our competitive program is meeting with the approval of Denver and mountain area horse racing fans more than ever before."

Centennial's handle for the first 25 days of the 50-day summer season was reported as $5,291,528. This is an increase of $655,093 and the daily average is $211,661, up $26,204 per day as compared with the same period a year ago.

Attendance has climbed to 129,697, up 18,381 over a year ago. The daily average is 5,188, up 735 patrons per day.

WINNER FOR RAY BELL

Making his second racecourse appearance, American owner Ray Bell's two-year-old Getaway was at odds-on to beat his three rivals in the Probationers' Stakes on the Curragh, and accomplished his task with the utmost ease.

By Solonaway out of a French mare Fragilite, Getaway was bought at the Doncaster Sales and will probably next contest the Phoenix Stakes.

The Magic Of Lehaunstown

Philip de Burgh-O'Brien

Lehaunstown, a few short miles south of the Irish capital, is one of the most celebrated hunting centres in Ireland. In the opinion of one sporting American I encountered in the Shelbourne Hotel (he called it House) it was well worth the trip across the Atlantic! He had a point there, too.

It lies in the shadow of the gold dappled Wicklow hills, and is the home of the Bray Harriers. All around is Irish magic: if one is not careful the local Elementals will invite you to join in their revels around the witching hour should you venture into their haunts in vale and dell. You have been warned.

Once a year the great Point-to-Point takes place. The narrow, twisting country roads converging on the course are thronged with every conceivable type of vehicle, ancient and modern. Dodging between them, in large numbers, come the cyclists and the pedestrians converging from all points of the compass. For the entire countryside is alive this Day: shops are closed, schools and offices suspend business. In the soft brogue of the district, one subject only is discussed; it is Horse, freely and intimately.

Here will be found the barrow-boys from nearby Dublin, with fruit and sweetmeats to sell. Side by side will be the errant schoolboy and the Reverend Father; the tinker, the Romany, and the Local Garda. Rich and poor have but one destination: the Course. Young ladies from the Hunts invite you cordially to buy raffle tickets. Mention it lightly - here we find nothing like this back home".

It is perpetual motion. The Bar tent is crowded. If you are lucky you will get your drinks handed over the heads of several well-wishers. "What are you havin'"; "hurry up, or we'll miss the next race," are among the cries. It is usual to toast your fancy in the next race; to share your good fortune in the last one, or to look for consolation... Sure, whatever might befall, it is a Day to enjoy, for it comes but once a year, however the luck will go.

Close by the lines of bookies is the three-card-trick man, with a jocular crowd - memories of Donnybrook Fair - pushing him hither and thither, and he keeping a sharp look out for the Law - for his business is illegal. "How do you do it," "Give me my money back, you swindler," will greet his best efforts at entertainment. Mingling with the big crowd are true Romanies who will foretell your fortune if you cross the palm with silver, shawlies, tipsters, hawkers, bank man-

Hunters

And Subdividers

Sylvester Pointkowski

In what could serve as a pattern for other Sportsmen to follow, the Goldens Bridge Hunt in New York is planning a community approach to the problem of preserving the diminishing outdoors against the relentless encroachment of building and development.

As a suburb of New York City, the Hunt area is attracting developers and residents to the country. Because some are not horse-minded, land that is essential to the hunt is often closed or made inaccessible because of homes, pools, out-buildings and other factors.

Ironically, children of the new residents are interested in riding and, when they become proficient enough to use the paths and cross country trails, they become victimized by the physical barriers presented by their own homes and that of their neighbors.

Because the number of those who hunt is limited (compared to those with other outdoor interests, such as archers, anglers and hikers) the Hunt lacks the strength of larger groups who are organized through conservation organizations. However, the vanishing outdoors presents the same problems to bow-and-arrow hunters and fly casters as it does to horsemen.

Rather than attempt to resist the growth of the area, the Goldens Bridge Hunt is attempting a program of community relations to interest all sportsmen in their mutual concern of the need for preserving nature, wild life and the outdoors.

In conjunction with its annual Colt and Young Hunter show on Sunday, August 31, the Goldens Bridge Hunt is encouraging a picnic-in-the-country at the Tilly Foster Farm, Brewster, N. Y. for all members of the area.

Daniel McKeon and Philip Bondy, Joint Masters, have appointed Emile Albert Berol and Jarrett Schmidt as chairman of the Program Committee. A show manager has been retained: Victor Tantolo. A promotion and program committee headed by Dick Bandler has been enlisting the cooperation of businessmen.

Dr. John Graham and Dr. Jere Lord have been working on the re-panelling chores. So far as members of neighboring hunts are concerned, all are asked to attend the August 31 reunion (and to bring their own lunch). This involves several hundred participants from Long Island, Connecticut, New York and New Jersey. It is hoped that anglers and deer stalkers will be able to exchange views with those who follow hounds in pursuit of a fox. Non horse-minded neighbors, it is hoped, will be made aware of the need for a community-minded approach to a cooperative effort in preserving nature, wild life and outdoor recreation.

If the plan is helpful in meeting the requirements of the Hunt, it may serve as a formula for others. If it doesn't, the approach may have to be altered based on the success of efforts in other communities. But everyone is confident this newer community-minded solution to an old problem will provide an answer!

Litchfield County

Hound Show

Beagle Division

Morgan Wing, Jr.

The beagles enjoyed a lovely day on June 7th at the Litchfield County Hound Show. The wonderful hospitality of the Sherman Haight's, their attractive home and grounds on which the show was held, and the lunch for all the rabbit and hare hunters given by Freddie Haight, all make this an event which we look forward to every year.

All classes were well filled. The judging assignment was capably carried out by Hugh L. Hopper, Madison, New Jersey, a well known breeder of beagles and judge of the Bryn Mawr Hound Show two years ago.

The Champion Beagle was Buckram Bellman, 1955 by Ch. Chessman of Walnut Hall ex Buckram Bargain. Bellman who has also achieved the top spot at Bryn Mawr hound show is a powerfully built 15-inch dog. Three packs won championships, Sandanona with their 13-inch dog Ch. Mal-lory's Rock-a-Bye; Sir Sister with their 13-inch bitch Minion 1958; and another Buckram entry, their 15-inch bitch Buckram Alto 1957. These three hounds gave Bellman stiff competition in the final four for Best Beagle.

Buckram Bellman reached the 15-inch dog championship by defeating Old Chatham Hunt Foot Beagles' Sandanona Lasher by Ch. Liseter Merry Lad ex Vernon Somers-et Mavis, who was Best Beagle in the 1956 Litchfield Show, the first year of the Beagle Division. There was a total of twelve 15-inch dogs.

In the 15-inch Bitch class with eight entries the veteran Sir Sister Cornelia 1953 pushed Buckram Alto hard before being named Reserve Champion. Sandanona won the Warren H. Pearl Memorial Trophy for the best five couple of beagles - to become the property of the Hunt winning it three times, not necessarily in succession. With the Sir Sister Beagles as winner in 1956 and 1957, the trophy was thus denied retirement, for Sir Sister was second with a nicely matched red and white pack with Buckram pressing closely for best pack honors. (Summaries appeared on page 13 in July 4, 1958 Issue).

Chronicle Cover Biographical Sketch Henry Alken, Sr.

Henry (Thomas) Alken was born at No. 3 Dufours Place, Golden Square, Soho, on October 12th, 1785. He received his first instruction in drawing from his father Samuel Alken, Sr., and later studied under John Thomas Barber Beaumont (1774-1841), a miniaturist. Alken's apprenticeship to a miniaturist is rather interesting since it will be noticed in his crowded hunting and steeplechase scenes for which he was to become so famous, that the tiniest figures are drawn with a miniaturist's delicacy and care. He was fascinated by the sensation of speed. Although there are hundreds of paintings, water colors and drawings by him, and thousands of prints after him, on a dazzling variety of subjects, the hustle-bustle element is noticeable in nearly all of them. His name conjures up a fast moving picture of the sporting thrills and hazards of Regency times; steeplechasing, with mounts littered around the country side; race horses, fully extended, heading desperately for the winning post; stage coaches battling against snow storms; and fox hunters flung over their horses heads and the hedges or ditches of Leicestershire, or left to flounder in deep rivers by their companions, who continue to press on in pursuit of Master Reynard, the pace being "too good to enquire".

On October 14th, 1809, the 24 year old Henry Alken married Maria Gordon at St. Clements Church, Ipswich. He was then making a reputation for himself as a graphic journalist of sport. From this period up to 1819 he employed a broad style of water color, without any noticeable amount of pencil work, and worked pseudonymously as 'Ben Tally Ho'. To most of his friends at Melton Mowbray, Alken was known not as an artist, but as an amusing young man, apparently with private means, who sold a horse now and then to meet his wine bills or card bets. He made a considerable income apparently training young horses for the hunting field.

Between 1820 and 1831 Henry Alken consolidated his position as an artist, and his remarkable power as a draughtsman can be studied in the number of sketch books and text books on drawings which he published during this period. Alken's career, however, falls into two contrasting halves. The first half is sunshine and success all the way. He made his mark as an artist very rapidly and enjoyed good fortune for about twenty years, but towards the end of the 1830's his vogue was on the wane and he was reduced to sending out his work to editors 'on spec', as we know from a casual paragraph written by 'Craven', the editor of the Sporting Review, in 1839. In these later years, Alken dealt chiefly with dealers and publishers only. His only important private patron was Mr. Hollingworth Magniac of Colworth, Bedfordshire, Master of the Oakley from 1841 to 1847. It was Magniac who commissioned his grand oil painting of the Oakley Hunt, and also the set of eight small paintings of the Grand Leicestershire Steeplechase of March 12th, 1829. After his complete breakdown in health, Alken stayed at Colworth intermittently for two years.

Although he was born and brought up within a stone's throw of Piccadilly, Henry Alken was temperamentally a countryman, an open air man. He persisted, even in London, in wearing quaintly countryfied, old-fashioned clothes - a coat of kental green decorated with large gilt buttons, gaiters and kickseys of brown cloth matching a low cut waistcoat with enormous pockets in which he thrust his bulging sketch books. An ugly, low crowned broad brimmed hat covered his head. He would have none of your dandy style sticks or clouded canes either, but grasped instead a rough walking staff. To passers-by who caught a glimpse of him in the London Streets, he must have looked more like a rough farmer intown for the day instead of an artist whose work was familiar throughout the country.

In 1850, an encephaloid tumor formed on his neck and he died after nearly a year of pain and exhaustion on April 7th, 1851, at Ivy Cottage, Milfield Lane, Kentish Town. He was nursed by his daughters, Elizabeth Alken and Lydia Anne Zeitter, the wife of John Christain Zeitter, who met the expenses of the old man's funeral, since he had died penniless.

Trevelyan's 'English Social History' makes it clear that the colored print which came into its own as a delightful popular art in the early years of the 19th century, ruled the mind and imagination of the age just as photography rules ours. This is a useful fact to keep in mind when trying to estimate the impact of Alken's work. Although he outlived his popularity, most people's impressions of sporting life in early 19th century England are derived, consciously or unconsciously, from Henry Alken; from his illustrations to books like the life of John Mytton and Jorrocks's Jaunts and Jollities, and from sets of his hunting and steeplechasing prints to be found in varying states in country houses, hotel dining rooms and bars everywhere. Friendly Horseman's Club

R. B. Snyder's Rudolph, a mahogany-bay horse with a white nose (unlike his red-nosed counterpart), triumphed in a field of 29 jumpers to capture the Jumper Championship at the Friendly Horseman's Club show at Denver, Pa. Rudolph, with Allen Garner in the irons, collected eight points by winning the knockdown and out and placing second in the stake. Joe Green's new Mr. Floppy, with Vince Dugan aboard, was reserve with six points, having captured first in the warm-up and fourth in the stake.

The knockdown and out was the most hotly contested, when five horses made the nine-barrier course without dropping a barrier. Rudolph again went clean to take the blue, and fifteen-year old Jerry Frankhouser, riding The Face, made six clear jumps to place second after the jump-off. The stake class saw four horses making faultless rounds, among them Rudolph and his stable-mate Calypso. The latter gelding, also ridden by Garner, forged ahead in the jump-off to take first place, one notch above the champ, Rudolph.

The hunter division drew as many as 30 to a class. In fact, the entire entry list reached 134 horses and ponies, making this the largest one day show in Lancaster county so far this year. Both Irish Warrior, owned by Irl A. Daffin, and ridden by Mrs. Joseph Ferguson, and J. D. Savastio's

Everyone connected with the Bedford show was overjoyed with the large number of entries and, for once, the weather man cooperated and provided lots of sun.

Wendy Hanson must have a problem finding enough room to house all her trophies and ribbons. She was again champion hunt seat rider, picking up another AHSA Medal class along the way; and her perfectly mannered grey mare, Star Chamber, added another tricolor as the champion children's horse.

Domino, a big four year old bay mare who, a year ago, was grazing contentedly in the fields without a thought in her head about hunting pace and snake fences and the like, brought beaming smiles to the faces of her owner and rider when she won the blue in the middle and heavyweight hunter class against many older and more experienced horses.

Today's lead line winners, tomorrow's horse show champions. If they follow in their parents' footsteps, this will certainly be true, for the blue went to the child of Mr. and Mrs. Harry Huberth (Anne Morningstar), and the son of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Hawkins (Cissy Duffy) "rode" Penrod to a sixth place ribbon.

U. S. Riders At White City Royal International Horse Show

Lt. Col. C. E. G. Hope

The international turn-out for this C.H.L.O. was one of the most disappointing for a number of years. Eight or nine nations had been expected - and advertised - with at least six for the nations cup; in fact only three teams turned up: the faithful Irish, the Portugese and the Americans. There was also one lone Italian, Piero D'Inzeo, to defend his conquests of 1957 - and how!

If audiences at the White City stadium during the week of July 21 to 26 were deprived of the cut and thrust of wide and keen international rivalry, the almost daily changes of fortune, they were given instead some superlative riding, polished performances which made most of our national riders look sadly rough and ready. The courses began by being too easy and too upright - which should have suited British riders, but somehow did not - but increased in severity and interest towards the end of the week for the classic competitions. D'Inzeo, who should know, thought the courses were good and improving every year.

For the technical enthusiast - and, if you like, the reactionary - it was most satisfactory to see some really stylish riding on horses systematically schooled on fundamental Caprilli principles, with a pleasing absence of restrictive gadgets, and TO SEE IT SUCCEED.

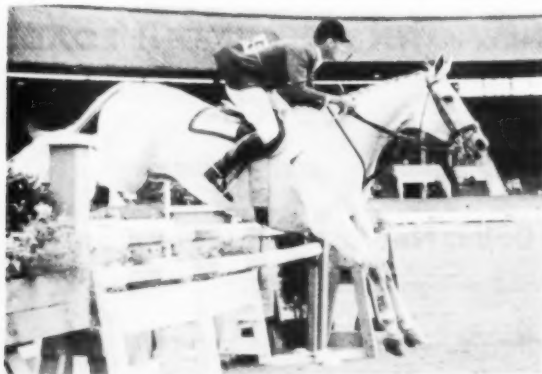

D'Inzeo Wears Sash

First of all D'Inzeo, for he as an individual dominated the show with his three horses, Uruguay, The Rock and His Excellency. He donned the Sash of Honour for the Loriners' Cup for the best individual rider after the first day and never took it off. Here is the record: Horse and Hound Cup; preliminary, Manifesto Stakes, His Excellency 2nd; Distaff Stakes, The Rock 1st; final, The Rock 1st, Metropolitan Stakes, Uruguay 1st, King George V Cup, His Excellency 2nd, Imperial Cup, Uruguay 2nd, Country Life and Riding Cup, Uruguay 4th, Jorrock's Stakes, The Rock 2nd, White City Stadium Cup; preliminary, Section I, His Excellency, Lonsdale Championship (puissance), The Rock, Daily Mail Cup, Uruguay. Never has one rider swept the board in such a decisive manner.

Piero D'Inzeo is a highly individual rider with a not always impeccable style, but the smooth, flowing rhythm of all his jumping rounds was - or should have been - an education, the steady position, the quiet hands, with the long rein and all absence of that fighting for control, the tossing of heads and often the gasping for breath combined with reins held so short that the riders' hands appear to be almost in contact with the bits, which is the mark of nearly all British so-called precision riding. He accepted his success with becoming grace and modesty which endeared him to all who watched; especially pleasing was his gesture in shaking hands personally with every placed young rider in the junior championship, an operation which the impatience of the stewards did not allow him to finish.

American Triumph

The American effort was also a triumph for style and team work and training. They are lucky in their trainer, Baron Nemethy, and he more than fortunate in his pupils, who must have worked very hard indeed under a most rigorous discipline. The result was a demonstration of a remarkable consistency of style and schooling, which was even more impressive than their successes. Here again were smooth rhythm, quiet riding with long reins and comfortable cooperation. The most interesting example of correct schooling was the performance of Ksar D'Esprit with Bill Steinkraus. It was hard to believe that this was the Revlons White Sable of 1954, flying over the big fences at hair-raising speed with a too-flat trajectory; at least, however, the horse had not been spoilt by being imprisoned in gag, tight noseband and standing martingale, and the good material has been worked upon without spoiling him. His second round in the Prince of Wales Cup, when the issue depended upon him and Steinkraus was a masterpiece; they might have been going for a quiet morning canter with a few jumps met casually on the way. Behind it, of course, were years of schooling and the concentration that only experience can give.

King George V Cup

Eight American horses qualified for the King George V Cup: Steinkraus - First Boy (the 1957 winner) and Ksar D'Esprit; Hugh Wiley - Sinjon, Night Owl (who tied with First Boy in 1957) and War Bride. On the day Sinjon, Sinbad and War Bride did not compete. Great Britain had 10 starters, including Ted Williams - Dumbell and Pegasus; Wilf White - Nizefela; Alan Oliver - Red Admiral and John Gilpin, and an unknown young rider from Yorkshire, Harvey Smith - Farmer's Boy. Ireland and Portugal had three each; Italy had Piero D'Inzeo with The Rock and His Excellency and Warren Wofford, an independent American, had Hollandia and Rathkeale.

The first round set the stage very clearly. Steinkraus made the pattern with a clear round on First Boy which made an unusually long course for this show look easy. This was deceptive. One by one the British riders fell out, also the Portuguese and the Irish. Ted Williams took the wrong course with Dumbell in spite rest were not in the hunt except - our unknown from Yorkshire, who took Farmer's Boy - or Farmer's Boy took him - quietly and steadily, with long rein and free head and neck, for the only British clear round. All failed in the barrage until Master William, the last to go, who performed a classic clear round over a formidable course, to rank with Ksar D'Esprit in The Nations Cup and The Rock in the Puissance.

Prince of Wales Cup

For the Prince of Wales Cup Great Britain fell back on their veterans: Wilf White and Nizefela, Pat Smythe and Flanagan, Alan Oliver and Red Admiral, Ted Williams and Pegasus, still a team to be reckoned with on the home ground. U.S.A. had Steinkraus and Ksar D'Esprit, Wiley and Nautical, Chapot and Diamant, Morris and Night Owl. The contest divided itself into two neck and neck struggles: between Great Britain and U. S. A. for first and between Ireland and Portugal for the last place which the latter won by 3 points. Red Admiral and Flanagan failed in each round, while Pegasus and Nizefela were at their best, making the British team total 8. The Americans started with 4 clear rounds, then approached disaster when Diamant had 4 faults and Nautical went to pieces, unshipped his rider - who broke a rib and was eliminated. Ksar D'Esprit, as I have already described then did one of those classic performances which compensate for so much in horsemanship.

Pat Smythe Lady Champion

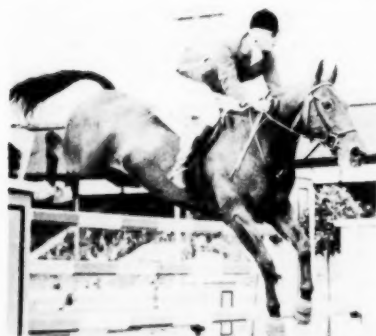

After that, the Americans showed signs of staleness and lack of concentration which more experience will remedy and dropped out of the picture. Britain managed to win the Jorrock's Stakes (Alan Oliver and Red Link) and the White City Stadium Cup (George Hobbs and Royal Lord). Previous to that Mrs. Boon and Pat Smythe of frantic warnings from the collecting ring, and he had Pegasus all wrong, overcollected and hollow-backed at the wide triple bars. It is fair to say that Williams was in great pain with his neck, the result of his accident at Aachen a bare three weeks before, so that at no time during the week did he show his best form. Indeed, he should not have been riding at all. Red Admiral and John Gilpin confirmed by earlier impressions that they had passed their peak.

Nautical went clear with a lighthearted jauntiness highly appreciated by the crowd; Night Owl and Master William were safe and workmanlike. D'Inzeo entered the next round with His Excellency, but somehow did not look the future champion. The kept the flag flying for the orthodox stylists in Britain, the former's win with Venus III in the Country Life and Riding Cup against Mr. Pollard, Royal Lord and Uruguay being a most heartening effort. Pat Smythe, riding Mr. Pollard (Pollard's Ball Bearings), at last achieved her ambition - and everybody else's for her - of winning the ladies' champion, the Queen Elizabeth II Cup, virtually, however, this year, a national competition.

The rest of the week was Italy's. Alan Oliver and Red Admiral produced a British rally against The Rock in the Puissance - as they did last year; but Red Admiral had had his fill at 6 ft 5 ins., while The Rock looked good for another foot. The Daily Mail Cup had its moments, when Mrs. Jill Banks (elder sister of Dawn Palethorpe Wofford) and Earls-rath Rambler had a chance to win at least one classic for Britain, but generally the standard had fallen off.

The Royal International Show of 1958 was instructive rather than brilliant. Following after Aachen, it will have shown the Americans that they are proceeding on the right lines and that they can look forward to Rome in 1960 in sober confidence. It will, I hope, have shown the British national riders that in the long run and at the highest level correct schooling and riding pays a dividend.

Highland's

Pacific Northwest

New to the Pacific Northwest this year, the Pony Working Hunter classes at the Annual Highland's School of Riding Horse Show became the feature events of the three day show.

On Sunday, an inviting course, duplicating in miniature the regular hunter fences was erected on the outside course. Winkim, owned by Tygh Redfield and ridden by Cleme Hilbruner, turned in a flawless round to win, and second was Miss Hilbruner's own pony, Honeycomb.

The jumper championship evolved into a three-day duel between Miss Judy McCormick on her good Spendthrift, and Miss Sue Barclay on the Highland's - owned Valhalla; with the former finally emerging the victor. Valhalla was shown last year under the name of The Sportsman, and continues to live up to his early promise of great ability.

The show, itself, for the past two years was limited to junior exhibitors, but this year, to everyone's delight, it was open to all; adding a new annual show to our rather limited circuit. Footloose

Poor Winnie and Bill Howland! It seems that every time a date to hold a show at their lovely place is picked, Mother Nature picks the very same date to let loose a downpour. August 3rd was no exception; Land-Ho's beautiful grass ring was soon a pock-marked mass of mud. Chris Wadsworth and J. Corran valiantly judged on, however, and such horses as Garden of Eden, Came Across, Time Enough, Moomerie, and Record Hop performed equally valiantly to take their respective championships. In spite of the treacherous footing, there was only one really bad fall. Eve Fout's horse apparently slipped and fell over backward on her, cracking her pelvis. It is the hope of all that her recovery will be a quick one. T. B.

MARY DRURY MEMORIAL

The Farmington Hunt Club Horse Show held the deciding class for the Mary Drury Memorial Trophy. Two of the ponies which had won the class previously were not shown - Ann and Billy Doyle's Pink Ice which won at Loudoun Pony and Junior, and Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Taylor's Johnny Reb which won at the Warrenton Pony Show. Elise Boyce and Billy Boyce III's Smokey Joe, winner at the Maryland Pony Show, was shown but unfortunately lost his rider during the class. Out of the number of ponies in the ring, only two had three points towards the trophy, Waverly Farm's Johnny Cake and Mountain Glen Farm's Storm Peak. Both were called back to hack, then strip. The judges deliberated at length finally giving the class to Storm Peak over Johnny Cake which gave Storm Peak 8 points to Johnny Cake's 6. The Mountain Glen clan of Cronks were overjoyed and pony enthusiasts were happy because Storm Peak was not only bred, raised, and shown through his yearling year by Mary Drury, but was also her favorite. T. D. J.

5-H RIDERS

The 5-H Riders, a 4-H Club from Albany County, N. Y., held its first annual 40 mile competitive Trail Ride on Sunday, June 29. The ride started at the Altamont Fairgrounds at 8:00 a.m. and proceeded over a marked trail, much of which was over hilly ground. 32 horses started, and all finished. Each horse was judged individually on the basis of time and condition. The minimum time allowed was 6 hours, and one point was deducted for each two minutes early or late.

There were horses entered from Vermont, New Jersey, Rochester, N.Y., as well as our own area. Several of the horses on the ride will compete in the Vermont 100 Mile Ride.

There were three divisions. First place in the Junior Division went to Marilyn Marsh, of Clarksville, N. Y. Lightweight Division winner and Champion of the Ride was Mrs. Ann Knoll of Altamont, N. Y. Heavyweight division winner and Reserve Champion was Miss Deborah Sealey of Wilmington, Vermont. Both the Champion and Reserve Champion were riding registered Morgans. The Horsemanship Challenge Trophy went to Dr. Jerry Borelli, of Rochester, N. Y. N.K.

Maryland Pony Show

The 14th Annual Maryland Pony Show held for the benefit of the Kernan Hospital for Crippled Children had the largest entries in its history. There were ponies and horses from Pennsylvania, Virginia and North Carolina, and they did very well - carrying off a large share of the ribbons. All the classes were more than well filled and all were hotly contested - with many almost perfect trips. The judges deserve tremendous credit for the magnificent job they did under sometimes rather trying conditions - the mornings of this 3-day show were very hot and humid and the afternoons had wind and pouring rain. The equitation championship which was last to be pinned caused the most excitement and provided the best "show". The champion, Jimmy Zimmerman, had to change horses with reserve champion Joannah Hall. When Jimmy went to receive his trophy he was still mounted on Jo Hall's Mini-Maid. Normally well-mannered, Mini wanted no part of this pinning - she took off with Jimmy, bucking and kicking in the best bronc rodeo style and soon Jimmy was flying through the air in one direction - his beautiful silver bowl going the other. Welsh Stud Book

"Many people from all parts of the country attended a recent meeting of the Welsh Pony and Cob Society which was called to decide some points of great importance to all breeders of Welsh ponies and cobs. The first item to come up for discussion, and a very vital one, was whether Section A (Welsh Mountain pony not exceeding 12 h.h.) should be restricted to the progeny of parents within that section. Up to now the progeny of ponies in Section B (Welsh pony up to 13.2 h.h.) and Section C (pony of cob type, also up to 13.2 h.h.) can, if under 12 h.h., be put into Section A. It has been felt that if Section A was closed, it would help to stabilize the Mountain pony type, and this was recommended by the Council. After much discussion, it was put to the meeting and carried by a majority. It was also passed that Section B should be closed to entries from Section C, both to take effect from March 31, 1959.

"It was agreed (1) that all fillies eligible for full registration be registered not later than December 31 in the year of their birth, and that all colts eligible for full registration be notified to the secretary's office not later than December 31 in the year of their birth, showing particulars of breeding, colour and markings.

"(2) That all fillies eligible for entry as F.S.1 and F.S.2 be entered not later than December 31 in the year following their birth.

"The discussion then turned to the future of Section B. It was pointed out by Mr. J. J. Borthwick that the present shortage of stallions handicapped the full development of this very important section, aiming to produce the quality 13.1 to 13.2 h.h. child's riding pony, for which there is a very ready market, both at home and abroad.

"It was felt by members that there was a great future for the Section C pony both for trekking and an all-round family pony, and that everything possible should be done to encourage the breeding of them." N.P.

EXCLUSIVELY OURS

The CORINTHIAN Forward-Seat Jumping Saddle

The Greatest advance in saddle design since the advent of the Italian Forward Seat.

Pictured above is the Corinthian saddle and the REVOLUTIONARY new tree on which it is built. It is made ENTIRELY of laminated Birch plywood with none of the many joints or crossgrains that are the cause of breakage and spreading in ordinary Beechwood trees.

Each tree is built up on a mould for complete trueness. Its great strength (at no extra weight) allows a new concept of "sweep of seat" design and narrowness of twist, affording the rider comfort and security heretofore unattainable.

Built entirely by hand by England's finest saddlers, it has a deep pigskin seat with a 3/4" dip, deeply recessed safety stirrup bars, "sure-grip" panels lined with French calfskin, and deeply moulded flaps to enfold concealed knee rolls. For hunt field, showing or hacking, the "Corinthian" will add greatly to your riding comfort, safety and performance.

We offer you a two-week trial period. You may use the Corinthian as though it were your own. If you are not delighted with it, return it and receive an immediate refund in full.

Please let us know your height and weight when ordering. Also tell us if your horse has high, low, or average withers.

Price, less fittings ----- $177.00
Complete with Super Grade fittings ---- $200.00

1. Laminated tree has no joints or crossgrains at these vital points.
2. Head and cantle have over 15 layers of plywood.
3. Narrow "twist" or waist for greater comfort and grip.
4. Newly designed recessed safety stirrup bars.
5. Spring Steel reinforcements for flexibility and added strength.
6. Flanged gullet plate to eliminate spreading or breaking.

N. Y. - Lower Conn. Rally

Fran Barnard

Fair weather prevailed generally for the New York-Lower Connecticut U. S. Pony Club Regional 1958 Rally, held Monday, July 7 through Thursday July 10, 1958.

The usual difficulties obtained in setting up the rally, the main ones being the problem of getting local leaders in touch with each other often enough to talk all details through and, where to have the rally. This last and main problem was solved through the good offices of Chester J. LaRoche, MFH of Fairfield County Hounds and now Regional Pony Club supervisor. Mr. LaRoche was able to make available the facilities of the Fairfield County Hunt Club at Westport, Conn. for the rally. In 1956 the rally was in Rhinementary first teams; four C elementary second teams; two advanced C teams and two B teams. Including helpers, over 70 children were involved.

Goldens Bridge, with a total of 743 points, won the D competition. The Purchase second elementary C team won the three-day competition, with 861.67 points; Goldens Bridge second elementary was reserve with a score of 820.74 and Fairfield-New Canaan third, with 785.98. The C advanced champion was Westchester, 824.68 points and reserve Meadowbrook 824.67, a very close second. The B championship went to the Purchase team with 937.79 points and Westchester was reserve with 871.21.

beck, New York and last year at Sunnyfields Farm, Bedford Village, New York, operated by Mrs. Allan McIntosh.

This year's rally was held in certain specified areas of the Fairfield County Hunt Club; meals were served contestants by caterers under a special tent and all rally activities generally carried out without interfering greatly with regular FCH Club activities. At the same time, pony clubbers who do not have a chance to hunt, benefitted greatly from being at the Hunt Club.

The four-day rally began Monday with tests for D's, who then shipped out. B's and C's competed Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday and were housed at night at the Fairfield Country Day School. Taking part were four D teams; four C elethe clubhouse porch, Mr. LaRoche thanked all pony clubbers for participating and complimented them on their good sportsmanship and good behavior throughout the rally. Mr. LaRoche, the rally committee and the Fairfield County Hunt Club were given a standing vote of thanks by the children.

Judges for the rally were Brig. General F. W. Boye, from Warrenton, Virginia and Col. D. W. Thackeray, of Governor's Island, New York, for stadium jumping, cross country and dressage. Sherman Haight, Jr. and Miss Sandy Glynn were stable judges.

The rally directors were Mrs. Carlotta Watson, Mrs. Barbara Taylor and Mrs. D. C. Loomis. Other committee members were: housing, Mrs. Charles Turner; scoring, Mrs. Glen Leet; hospitality, Mrs. Page S. Proctor, Jr. and publicity, Mrs. Lynn Barnard.

The D competitions on Monday consisted of individual horsemanship tests in the ring and written tests in the morning, with cross country individual tests in the afternoon. The D's then played the British version of several mounted games under the direction of Mrs. Barbara Taylor, who recently spent several months in England hunting and attending various equestrian events. Prizes were then awarded and refreshments served, after which the D's shipped out.

The C's and B's arrived between 4 and 6 p.m., set up their stable area, and registered. They were permitted back in the stable area at 6:00 a.m. and stable inspection began at 8 a.m. Tuesday and continued until Thursday at 2 p.m. Dressage tests for all contestants were held all day

Tuesday, and in two relays, pony clubbers walked the cross country course to be ridden the following day. Contestants enjoyed a swim in the Hunt Club pool between 5 and 6:30, and after supper, movies made available through the courtesy of Mrs. Allan McIntosh of Sunnyfields Farm, Bedford Village, N. Y., were shown by Konrad Fisher of Kenilworth Stables of Rye, N.Y. Stable area curfew was at 9:00 and quarters lights out at 10:00 p.m.

The cross country tests took place Wednesday without mishap. The written tests were given in two groups. Between 12:30 and 1:30 the stable areas and tack rooms were open for public inspection. Comments were heard on all sides as to the neatness and excellence of the tack rooms.

The children again had a refreshing swim in the club pool Wednesday evening followed with a dressage exhibition by Miss Karen McIntosh on Scipio and later a discussion.

The stadium jumping phase was finished early on Thursday, although proceedings were held up somewhat by the only accident of the rally. John Klein of the Westchester B team sustained a fall while schooling, which fortunately turned out to be nothing serious. Stable judging ended at 2:00 p.m. Scores were tallied and the prize giving took place on the club house porch at 3:00 p.m. Sherman Haight Jr. second vice president of the Pony Club talked to the children on stable management and pony club activities generally.

In summing up, everyone seemed to feel that it had been a most successful rally and that a great deal had been learned by all. Much good fellowship among supervisors, interested adults and pony clubbers had been engendered. Mrs. Watson was presented with a handsome gift in appreciation of her excellent work in bringing off such a smooth-running rally. Many felt that next year's rally should be preceded by more meetings to iron out various points of scoring, etc.

Scores and individuals on the various teams were as follows:

Deep Run Hunt Junior

The two day Deep Run Junior Horse Show was favored with a variety of odd weather. The first day was extremely hot but the Hunt Club has just installed a lovely new swimming pool which was open for exhibitors to cool off; the afternoon session of the first day found a definitely water-logged group of juniors competing. The heavens opened on Sunday and the better part of exhibitors and spectators were nature-cooled.

The junior hunter division was by far the largest division, with Retreat Farm's chestnut four-year-old daughter of War Harmony, Anne of Rapidan, coming out on top over Alice Frazer's consistent Teddy Bear. Kathleen Watson of Virginia Beach had a field day sweeping the large pony division to a grand total of 19 1/2 points for the tri-color over Barbara Batterton's Over She Goes. Mr. & Mrs. Kenneth Taylor's attractive looking Johnny Reb was pinned over Mt. Glen's Storm Peak in the small division.

Genesee Valley

A pleasant day sparked a very successful day at the second annual Genesee Valley Hunt Pony Club gymkhana. It was one of those remarkable days when all the horses cooperated to the fullest extent and many a novice found herself actually going around the course without any problems. The result was a relaxed atmosphere, and everyone had a great time. Of particular note was a class called Beginner's Hunters - only those who had just started to jump were allowed to go around a simple course. It was a good idea and did much to encourage the beginner. M. K.

MISCELLANEOUS

Available

Because of a relocation of business interests, I have decided to dispose of my horses and my farm. As a result of this regrettable circumstance, I am recommending a trainer and manager of my stable. This man and his wife are Hungarian. He is expert in the field of training jumpers and hunters, and particularly high school dressage. His wife is also an able horsewoman, and they both have an extraordinary way with other animals, as well as horses. Their work with training a boy (14) to show jumpers has been outstanding. They are both of very sober habits, of the highest character

Dear Sir:

Having just seen in The Chronicle of July 18th that you are looking for photos of horses well known in the good old days, I am wondering if you would be interested in the enclosed.

It is a picture of my well known chestnut mare Palmetto who was for many years unbeaten at the larger shows in the Middleweight, Ladies and Model hunter classes, but also carried me most brilliantly with the Meadow Brook Fox and the Meadow Brook drag hounds and later, until she was 19 years old while I was M.F.H. of the Smithtown.

PALMETTO (Circa 1920)

She was originally bought by Mr. Harry La Montagne from Drage in Ireland, and I showed her successfully for Mr. & Mrs. La Montagne before she came into my possession.

I showed and hunted her in a plain snaffle and running martingale - in those days no one would have been seen dead with the dropped nose bands and other paraphernalia that is put on unfortunate horses today.

With best regards,
 Lida Fleitmann Bloodgood

It has been the policy at the seaside track since racing resumed here after World War II to conduct three days each season for the benefit of Del Mar Charities, Inc. Profits from admissions, reserved seat sales, programs, parking, concessions and pari-mutuel wagering - less actual operating expenses - are turned over to the welfare corporation at the conclusion of the meeting. In 1957, this amounted to $50,312.

U.S.E.T. At the Dublin Horse Show

Bill Bryan

George Morris, 20-year-old newcomer to the U.S.E.T., and veteran Hugh Wiley were the pacesetters as the Prix des Nations Team continued its victory march at the Dublin Horse Show, Aug. 5-9.

Individual top honors among the U.S. riders went to Morris who scored three wins, a second, a third, a fourth and a fifth. Wiley collected two firsts and a third. In addition, both Morris and Wiley rode in the team class in which the U.S. E.T. representatives finished second.

Morris distributed his trio of victories equally among his mounts, winning one with each of the three horses he is riding on the team's current training tour. His first victory of the famous Irish show came in the Fault and Out when he gave War Bride a flawless ride to edge Portugal's Capt. O. M. Collado on Caramule for first place. Morris earned 28 points in a time of 1:01.2 while Collado, who also had 28 points was clocked at 1:02.6. Morris also finished third in this event on Sinjon with 27 points in 1:01.8.

In the Ballsbridge Stakes the slender New Canaan, Conn., rider turned in two faultless rounds on Sinjon, recording a time in the jumpoff of 34.4 seconds. In second place was Mrs. Jill Banks of England, riding Earlsrath Rambler. Mrs. Banks also had two clean rounds but she bowed with a time of 37.8 seconds.

The most sought-after individual event of the show also was annexed by Morris as he rode Night Owl to victory in the Irish Government Trophy competition. England's George Hobbs, riding the Irish-bred Ballinasloe Fair, was second.

Wiley scored the first half of his double in the Epreuve de Puissance when he negotiated four clean rounds. The course was reduced for the final jumpoff from six obstacles to two with the final pair measuring 5' 10" and 6' respectively. Tied for second behind Wiley and his spectacular Palomino were Mrs. Banks with Earlsrath Rambler and Capt. Collado on Martingil. Fourth place went to Morris and Night Owl who were tied with three others.

Again in the High Jump it was Wiley and Nautical all the way as the pair emerged victorious after the fences had reached a height of 6' 4".

The Pembroke Stakes went to Capt. Collado and Martingil as Morris finished second on Night Owl after each completed three clean rounds. Collado's time of 32 seconds however was good enough to beat Morris who had a mark of 33.8 seconds. Wiley was third aboard Nautical while Frank Chapot finished seventh on Diamant.

Morris and Sinjon also were fifth in a military and civilian time class.

Particularly disappointing to the adherents of the U.S. team was the upset victory scored by England in the Aga Khan National Cup, the prized team event. Bad Luck seemed to jinx the U.S.E.T. riders from the outset as only Bill Steinkraus, riding Ksar d'Esprit, was able to turn in two faultless rounds. The others, Wiley on Nautical, Chapot on Diamant, and Morris on Night Owl, ran up a total of 21 1/4 faults in the first round to put them well behind the leaders. However, the U.S.E.T. made a strong comeback in the second round as they collected only 1/4 fault. Their total of 21 3/4 was not enough to win and they were forced to take second place behind England who had a total of 12 faults. The British team was made up of George Hobbs on Royal Lord, Mrs. Banks on Earlsrath Rambler, Henry Smith on Farmer's Boy and J.M. Charlesworth on Smoky Bob. Portugal finished third with 32 faults, France fourth with 36 and Ireland fifth with 36 1/2.

The Lucerne CHIO

R. Schlosser

At the Lucerne Show Germany was represented in full strength by the Olympic team, Herren Winkler, Thiedemann, Luetge-Westhues and also by Herr Schridde, one of its most promising younger show jumping riders.

The "Preis vom Buergenstock" was won by Herr Thiedemann's Godewind with Signor Gutierrez' Pagoro (Italy) and Herr Winkler's Fahnenjunker coming second.

The Italians took their revenge in the pair jumping competition for the "Preis vom Vierwaldstatter See". With a clear round Signor Gutierrez (Pagoro) and the Marchese de Medici (Irish Rover) won this event in the fastest time of 50.3 sec. Only .3 sec behind was the German team, Herren Winkler on Sonnenglanz and Thiedemann's Finale. On the third day first international jumping event was the "Sankt Georgs Preis". Here the victory was shared by the Marchese di Medici (Sea Leopard) and Herr Winkler's Halla.

THE CHRONICLE

The Cup of the Irish Defense Minister on the same day also went to Germany, when Herr Thiedemann's Finale won the jump-off with a clear round in 55.9 sec from M. d'Oriola's Gingembre and Herr Schridde's Hardenberg, both also having clear rounds but needing 1:01.9 minutes for the course.

The Germans were favorites for the Nations Cup and took the lead in the first round with only 4 faults, Italy 12, Chile 24 1/2 and Ireland 28 1/2 faults. In the second round Ireland caught up, but did not come near enough to threaten seriously the German victory. The German team won with 28 faults followed by Ireland (32 1/2), Chile and Italy (each 41 1/2 faults), Switzerland (48), the Arabian Republic's team (62 1/4), Poland (86) and the Dutch (130). The French and Belgian teams did not compete in the second round.

On the following day the German team repeated its success in the relay jumping competition, where teams of 3 riders competed. In this competition jumping faults were counted as extra seconds, the best time being decisive. Only team with a clear round were the Arabians. However the German team (Herren Winkler - Sonnenglanz, Thiedemann - Finale, and Schridde - Fugosa) were fast enough to win with 3:52.7 min., beating the Italians (3:54.4), the Egyptians (4:07.9) and the Poles (4:09.0) into 2nd, 3rd and 4th place respectively.

Climax of the Show was the exciting GroBer Preis der Stadt Lucerne". For this competition 19 horses had qualified in 3 eliminating events. 10 of them went clear in the first round. However in the first barrage only Herr Thiedemann's Godewind and Herr Winkler's Fahnenjunker did avoid faults. These two riders tried to decide the competition by three more barrages, with the obstacles up to 1.95 m until it became too dark and both shared 1st place. 3rd prize went to M. Schokaert's Muscudin (Belgium) and 4th to Herr Lutge-Westhues' Ala.

All in all the German team was by far the most successful in Lucerne, although one must keep in mind that the strongest teams in Europe were missing, such as the Spaniards or the leading Italians. However it was interesting to see that of the German team's horses Herr Thiedemann's Godewind and Herr Winkler's Fahnenjunker seem to have improved considerably since last year. Also the younger member of the team, Herr Schridde, seems by now to be quite up to international standards.

Paderborn Three Day Event

This year's first Olympic Horse Trials in Germany were held at Paderborn in May.

Leading after the first day's dressage was Herr Klimke with 35.67 minus marks riding Lausbub. Second came Herr Nettekoven's Tanzerin (-37,30) and third Herr Luetge-Westhues' new horse Franko II (-49,10). Positions were altered however on the second day's cross country phase, when Herr Pohlmann's Polarfuchs caught up, winning this part of the test. The same combination kept its lead also on the third day, doing a clear round over the show jumping course, a 500 m course including 12 obstacles. The other horses which went clear were Herr Klimke's two horses Lausbub and Winzerin, Herr Luetge-Westhues' Franko II and Herr Dehning's Fechtlanze.

Winner of the trials thus turned out to be Herr Pohlmann with Polarfuchs (6,63 minus marks). This combination had previously won the Teltge "Military" last autumn. Herr Pohlmann has been one of the most consistent winners in three day events here ever since 1951. Unfortunately this talented rider has very seldom been available for international competitions abroad. Second, with only 0,06 minus marks more was Herr Klimke's Lausbub, third Herr Luetge-Westhues' Franko II (-17,57) and 4th Herr Dehning's Fechtlanze (-67,40). On Fama (-135,47) Herr Dehning also finished 5th.

Russian Dressage at Wiesbaden

The season here started with the traditional Wiesbaden Whitsun Show. As usual the leading German show jumpers as well as numerous foreign competitors took part. This year's dressage events included as special attraction the FEI's official dressage Competitions. Also for the first time since the war Russia had sent a team of three riders outside the iron curtain to take part in a western Horse show other than the Olympic games. In '55 and '56 the Russian riders had competed in Rumania and last year in Leipzig, but had only met opposition from East European countries. Western observers in Leipzig were under the impression that the Russians had improved considerably since the Stockholm Olympic games. Also last year Russian dressage experts had watched with special interest international dressage events in Western Europe.

First of the FEI events was the Prix St. Georges. It was won by the Swiss Chammartin riding his young, so far little known horse "Wolfdietrich" (535 marks). On Woermann, another younger horse, Herr Chammartin also finished third (527), leaving second place to Germany's Frl. Weygand with Perkunos (532).

In the FEI's new test "Reprise Intermediaire" Herr Chammartin was again successful with Woermann (674). Second came Frau Rau's Aar (Germany), ridden by Herr von Veltheim (656). This gelding, because of its big frame sometimes called the "Elephant" started his career as a show jumper and with Herr Thiedemann up won the "GroBer Preis von Aachen" in 1953. Third was again Herr Chammartin's Wolfdietrich, 4th Herr Neckemanns Asbach (630) and 5th Major St. Cyr's novice horse Etoile (627). In this event Frl. Weygand's Perkunos finished 6th. Only Russian competitor to come into the money was Capt. Filatov's Ingass (599) who ended on 9th place.

Capt. Filatov was more successful in the Grand Prix de Dressage. After this test the four leading riders were: Capt. Filatov's Ingass (1088), Herr Chammartin's Woehler (1078), Frl. Weygand's Perkunos (1010) and Frau Linsenhoff's Monarchist (993).

According to the FEI rules the winner in this event was to be decided after a "barrage" between the 4 leading horses in this competition. In the barrage however, which consisted of the whole test, the Swiss Chammartin moved up to the front, collecting 1128 points, thus getting a total of 2206, winning the Grand Prix from Capt. Filatov who only got a total of 2156. Third was Frl. Weygand (1986) and 4th Frau Linsenhoff (1917). Thus definitely the most successful dressage competitor was the Swiss sergeant major Chammartin, who came out as winner of all the FEI tests. Still the dressage in Wiesbaden was a bit of a disappointment, as a number of Europe's leading dressage horses were missing: Switzer-an allowance race a nine furlongs and in the 1 5/8-mile Coaching Club American Oaks.

The Pageant is at 1 1/16 miles on grass and A Glitter wasn't in it, so enough people put their doubts behind them to make Fall Wind the even-money choice.

She justified their confidence. With Hartack at the controls, she led from the break and won by two lengths. Miss Orestes got within a length of the leader an eighth of a mile out but lost ground in the stretch. Miss Orestes was still 3 1/2 before Stay Smoochie, and that one saved fourth by three-quarters of a length over Kosta.

land had only sent Herr Chammartin with the Olympic veteran Woehler and two novice horses and Sweden Major St. Cyr, also with a novice horse Etoile. The German leading dressage horses Thyra, Doublette and Brillant (all three of them coming out of the Schultheiss training centre) also did not take part. Thyra had to be operated on the left fore hoof a week before Wiesbaden. Doublette and Brillant were not started because Frl. Weygand had not had the time to ride the new FEI tests with these horses. So unfortunately Wiesbaden did not offer the chance to get a complete picture of Europe's leading dressage riders and horses at the moment. However the Russian team taking part in Wiesbaden made up for this disappointment.

Chef d'Equipe of the Russian team was Pjotr Prochorowitsch Payryschew. Of the team's 3 riders 32 year old Capt. Sergej Filatov and 41 year old Major Alexander Vtorov had already competed at the Stockholm Olympic Games, where Capt. Filatov finished 11th with Ingass. Major Vtorov also rode his Stockholm horse Skatschek. Third member of the team was 50 year old Major Iwan Lomov, who rode Muar, a nine year old black stallion, who had by far the noblest appearance of the Russian horses. Although in Wiesbaden only Capt. Filatov provided serious opposition. There can be very little doubt that the Russians will stand quite a chance at the 1960 Olympics.

All three riders had an excellent seat with leg and back aids barely visible. The horses seemed used to complete obedience. However with the exception of Muar the horses seemed a bit too tight in the mouth.

$18,338.75 moved her up to $43,673.75. She has 5 wins and 5 seconds in 15 tries. The Pageant was her first success in a stakes.

At two, she won 2 out of 3 and $3,745.

Owned by Harriet Robinson and trained by M. J. Robinson, Fall Wind was bred by Brookmeade Stable.

The Robinsons bought her for $3,000 as a yearling in '56.

Greek Chief, with Hartack up, ran off with the seven-furlong King Neptune Handicap, on August 13.

He put away the favored I've Got Rhythm after a quarter of a mile and won over My Warrior by 5 1/2 lengths. Greek Star and Michore took third and fourth places. The track was sloppy and the field was well strung out at the end.

Owned by M. G. Phipps and trained by T. J. Kelly, Greek Chief collected $10,988.75 for his gallop. That gives him $24,258.75 for the season. He has won 3 races, been second twice and third once in 12 starts. At two, last year, he won 3 races and $8,620.

race was a very pleasing one for followers of the infield sport. The long familiar light blue and yellow silks of F. Ambrose Clark were first across the wire by a neck. Vespucci, a royally-bred son of Discovery, out of the Bimelech mare, Stellar Role, was acquired as a yearling here by Mr. Clark for about $43,000. A winner on the flat as a two and three-year-old, Vespucci was making his debut through the field in this race. Backed into 3 to 1 favoritism in a large field, it was a bad race for any weak-hearted spectators. He was ridden by George Palmer, a good exercise boy with no race riding experience. After some delay at the start, Vespucci was all but left and was sent on his way only by an alert assistant starter using a whip. Entering the back stretch the first time, Vespucci was probably 25 lengths behind the leaders. At the same point a complete lap later, he had one horse beat, and was probably fifteen lengths behind Glendower, the pacemaker at this stage of the race. Then the long overland journey began. Fifth or sixth going to the far turn, he gained around the turn, reached fourth bending into the stretch. Going very wide at this point, he lost yardage to Glendower, which ran straight and true and appeared the winner. Nonetheless, Palmer did his best, slowly gained on the leaders and just got up in the closing stride to beat Glendower at the wire. It was four lengths back to Negocio for third, with Pilgrim's Cloak fourth.

Two For Sidney Watters

The first of two winners saddle by Sidney Watters, Jr., during the week, was his own Carthage on Wednesday. Running and jumping well, Jimmy Murphy guided the veteran jumper home to an easy score in the very fast time of 4:10 for the about two miles distance over the brushcourse. Prince Nam, Eastcor and Out of Reach shared the purse in that order.

Saturday's hurdle race at a mile and five furlongs called for non-winners of a race of $1,000 in 1957-58. It was just the "spot" that Sidney Watters, Jr., was looking for. Richard K. Mellon's Chambourg, a grand, big looking jumper type with a record of six wins in 1956, was slowly being groomed by Watters for a return to the racing wars this season. With relatively inexperienced or light competition, and a comparatively short distance, Chambourg made a show of his field. Taking the lead midway around, he opened up a good lead, and coming down the stretch, Jimmy Murphy his rider, had a snug hold of him. It was a contest for second with *Peach Blossom 2nd a neck in front of Hannah's Hill. The latter, the second jumper to carry the colors of F. Ambrose Clark during the week.

BOB GOVE

Thoroughbred horsemen, especially those engaged in International traffic and sales throughout the world, were saddened recently when it was learned belatedly that Bob Gove, one of the partners in the Australian Bloodstock Agency, with headquarters in Melbourne, had died July 1, after an unexpected heart attack. Gove recently sent several shipments to the U. S. A., and had some deals pending with Ted Williams, Californian dealer, who made a series of trips by air to the Antipodes.

Announcement was made that the Agency would continue and that Theo. D. Gove would manage the company, founded at the turn of the century by his father, the late Julius Gove. B. B.

EDWARD FEAKES

Edward Feakes, who manages Amory Haskell's Woodland Farm, Red Bank, N. Y., and who also trains his race horses, as well as looking after his hunters, comes by his skill with horses honestly. Helis, Jr. His father's brother, Ed, after whom he was named, rode for August Belmont. His maternal grandfather, Billy Hayward, rode the great race horse Preakness, for whom the middle jewel of the Triple Crown is named.

BLUE RIDGE BALL

The Blue Ridge Hunt will hold its annual Hunt Ball on Saturday, December 27th, at the Winchester Golf Club.

A feature of this year's Hunt Ball will be a drawing of the winning ticket in the raffle for an oil portrait by the artist Jean Bowman. Miss Bowman will paint a head portrait of a child, horse, dog, bull or pet of the winner's choosing, and she will pay her own travel expense if the winner lives within one hundred miles.

MISS SEARS' PLANS

Probably because she is having such a good time watching the great success of her horses Ksar d'Esprit and Diamant, currently doing such a grand job for the U. S. Equestrian Jumping Team in Europe, Miss Eleonora R. Sears of Boston has instructed trainer Jimmie Smith that she will not return from Europe for racing at Saratoga, but that her horses are to be pointed for the fall Belmont meeting.

DARTMOOR BREEDER

Nine of the winning ponies in the well-entered Dartmoor classes at the Bath and West Show at Plymouth were bred by Miss Sylvia Calmady-Hamlyn at Buckfast. The three stallions, Jenson, Jentyl and Jenyn, were first, second and third, Jenson being awarded the championship. The first and second prize winning colts, Capt. and Mrs. Robinson's Petroc and Miss Ferguson's Vean Partridge, are brothers. Next we have the second and third prize winning fillies, the Robinsons' Vean Pasque Flower and the Robinsons' Jenetta. The ninth of these ponies, Miss Ferguson's Vean White Rose, was first in the yearling class. Here we have a trio of brothers, followed by a brace of brothers, a brace of sisters and two first cousins.

"UN-RECONSTRUCTED"

A postmaster in the heart of the hunt country (Col. John Mosby's baliwick) reports that one of his standby dowagers refuses to put the four cent Lincoln stamp on any of her correspondence.

ROCKINGHAM PARK NOTE

Few jockeys have gone down in history as noted philanthropists of the Rockefeller-Carnegie ilk, but every time Jockey Darrell Madden rides the Thoroughbred Watch It Grow, it's strictly for charity. The horse runs for the benefit of the Crippled Children's Non-Sectarian fund.

JOSEY MOHLER

Josey Mohler, fifteen, Mechanicsburg R 2, Pa., was fatally injured in a horse-trailer accident at 6:30 p.m., August 14, three miles east of Dover, Pa., and died three hours later in the Harrisburg Hospital of a crushed chest and other internal injuries.

A hunter, Sea Hunt, owned by Maxine Biffert, Mechanicsburg, was instantly killed in the crash, but Josey's own horse, Johnnycake Jr., suffered only minor scratches.

Sally Dohner, Camp Hill, Pa., driver of the car pulling the trailer, and four other teenagers in the auto were not injured.

According to reports, Josey was riding inside the trailer, when a truck rounding a sharp curve on a slippery road struck the trailer, shearing off one side, and killing Sea Hunt instantly. Josey was pinned against the other side by her horse, and when the trailer overturned, both were thrown from the wreckage, the horse some 40 feet away. The truck did not hit the automobile, and both drivers tried to avert the crash, witnesses said.

Seconds before the crash, a friend following in another car tried to warn her, but the accident happened too quickly for Josey to save herself.

She was the only child of Mr. and Mrs. John Mohler, and was one of the leading young riders in the Central Pennsylvania Junior Horse Show Association, showing full-sized hunters and jumpers. She was noted not only for her excellent horsemanship, but her good sportsmanship. The York Junior Show, only four days later, was dedicated to her. M. L. S.

National Three-Day Event constituting the Olympic tryouts which will be held at the same place on August 28th, 29th, 30th, and 31st.

INCOME TAXES

The National Thoroughbred Foundation announces that it has ordered a limited second printing of the 1958-59 edition of its book, "Racing and the Income Tax", which is the acknowledged reference authority on the question of whether racing is a business or a hobby for federal income tax purposes.

JEAN BOWMAN

The well known equestrian portrait painter Jean Bowman recently returned to this country after painting a number of commissions in England and Ireland. These included Gilles de Retz (Royal Charger-Ma Soeur Anne), winner of the 2,000 Guineas, standing at John Alexander's Milford Stud, County Carlow, Ireland; two 2-year-old fillies, the property of Mrs. Parker Poe of Shawnee Farm, Harrodsburg, Ky., painted during their training on the beach near Dublin; a hunter belonging to Sir Reginald Rootes and other pictures.

CONSOLATION

There is nothing in the world more agonizing to an editor than to come up with a numb skull error, typographical or otherwise. When it occurs the only balm for the wound is the error another fellow makes. Here is one that helped us to forget a few of ours. One of the leading eastern dailies referred to a whipper-in of a hunt as a "whipper-up".

is the "Bernard Baruch Birthday Stakes," to become a part of Saratoga's stakes events for 1959 and celebrated this (1958) season with a special race on the August 19, which is Mr. Baruch's birthday. Bernard Baruch has long had a special feeling for Saratoga, as expressed in his personal assistance and generosity toward the State operated Spa. This follows in his family tradition, for his father, Dr. Simon Baruch, was very prominent in the establishment of this health center. Bernard Baruch has been a daily visitor in his box at the races, a custom he has enjoyed for, as he expresses it, "a quarter of a century or so."
